Day 1
The Psalm That Opens the Door

Psalm 112, the Hebrew words in large print, and the first command over your money

7 minutes, tomorrow morning. Everything you need to begin.

RABBI DAVID MESSAGE

Before You Begin

This little book is the first day of a seven-day practice from the book The 7-Day Command Over Money. It gives you one psalm, one line of Hebrew in large print with how to say it, one short command to speak over your money, and one task for your hands.

It takes about seven minutes, tomorrow morning. You need this book, a notebook and a pencil. That's all.

Two things to know before you start.

- The Hebrew words are printed three ways: in Hebrew letters, in English letters you can read aloud, and in syllables. The syllable in CAPITALS is the one you lean on. You don't need to know Hebrew to say them.
- The Command is a short prayer said aloud in your own voice. You're not ordering Hashem around. You're telling your money and your house where they belong, under the One who gives it all.

RABBI DAVID'S NOTE

Say it slowly. Hashem is not in a hurry, and neither are you.

Nothing here is a trick to make money appear. The tradition never taught that. It teaches that Hashem gives, and that a person's words and habits can open the door or close it. Tomorrow you open it.

Day 1: Psalm 112, the House Where Wealth Stays

Day 1 starts in the morning, before the mail and before the phone. Today you say the psalm that speaks of "wealth and riches" in a house, and you look at every bill you've been afraid to open.

YOUR MOMENT: MORNING

As soon as you're up and dressed, before you check the mail, the phone or the news. Psalm 92 says it is good "to shew forth thy lovingkindness in the morning." The first words of the day set the tone for the rest of it.

How every day works

Before the first psalm, here is the pattern you'll follow all seven days. It takes about seven minutes.

STEP BY STEP

1. Sit down somewhere quiet with this book, your notebook and a pencil. Take one slow breath.
2. Read the psalm of the day out loud, slowly. About three minutes.
3. Say the Hebrew words of the day three times, slowly, following the syllables. About one minute.
4. Say the Command of the day out loud, in your own voice. About one minute.
5. In your notebook, write one line: what you are asking Hashem for today, and what you will do with your hands today.

6. Sit for a moment in silence and say "thank You." Then go do the task.

RABBI DAVID'S NOTE

If you can only read slowly, read slowly. If your voice is weak, whisper. What matters is that your lips move and your heart is on the words.

Why Psalm 112

Psalm 112 is short, ten verses, and it describes one kind of person from top to bottom: the one who "feareth the LORD" and "delighteth greatly in his commandments." It says what his house is like. In the middle of it is the verse this whole day is built on:

> "Wealth and riches shall be in his house: and his righteousness endureth for ever." (Psalm 112:3)

Look at what the same psalm says about how this man handles money. He "sheweth favour, and lendeth: he will guide his affairs with discretion" (verse 5). "He hath dispersed, he hath given to the poor" (verse 9). And: "He shall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, trusting in the LORD" (verse 7).

So wealth in this psalm isn't luck. It lives with a man who gives, who lends, who manages his affairs with care, and who isn't afraid to hear bad news. That last one is today's task.

Read it aloud

PSALM 112 · KING JAMES VERSION

[1] Praise ye the LORD. Blessed is the man that feareth the LORD, that delighteth greatly in his commandments. [2] His seed shall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the upright shall be blessed. [3] Wealth and riches shall be in his house: and his righteousness endureth for ever. [4] Unto the upright there ariseth light in the darkness: he is gracious, and full of compassion, and righteous. [5] A good man sheweth favour, and lendeth: he will guide his affairs with discretion. [6] Surely he shall not be moved for ever: the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance. [7] He shall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, trusting in the LORD. [8] His heart is established, he shall not be afraid, until he see his desire upon his enemies. [9] He hath dispersed, he hath given to the poor; his righteousness endureth for ever; his horn shall be exalted with honour. [10] The wicked shall see it, and be grieved; he shall gnash with his teeth, and melt away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

The words of Day 1

THE WORDS OF DAY 1 · PSALM 112:3

הוֹן־וָעֹשֶׁר בְּבֵיתוֹ וְצִדְקָתוֹ עֹמֶדֶת לָעַד

Hon va'osher beveito, vetzidkato omedet la'ad.

HOHN vah-OH-sher · beh-vay-TOH · veh-tzeed-kah-TOH · oh-MEH-det · lah-AHD

"Wealth and riches shall be in his house: and his righteousness endureth for ever."

Say it three times. Hon is wealth. Osher is riches. Beveito is "in his house." Tzidkato is "his righteousness," from the same root as tzedakah, giving to the poor. In the Hebrew, wealth in the house and giving stand in the same sentence.

The Command of Day 1

THE COMMAND OF DAY 1

Hashem, Your word says, "Wealth and riches shall be in his house." I open this house to Your blessing. I am not afraid of the news in these envelopes. My heart is fixed, trusting in You. Every dollar that comes into this house, I will guide with care, and from it I will give. Hon va'osher beveito.

Today's task: open every envelope

"He shall not be afraid of evil tidings." For many people, the evil tidings are sitting in a drawer, in envelopes nobody wants to open.

STEP BY STEP

1. Gather every unopened envelope, past-due notice and letter from a bank, a collector or a utility. Check the drawers, the car, the counter.
2. Open them all, one by one. Don't stop to worry. Just open.
3. In your notebook, write a list: who it's from, how much it says, and the date it's due.
4. Put all of them, opened, in one folder. That folder is now your "known" pile. It is no longer a fear in the dark.

THE PRACTICAL SIDE

This is the most important task of the whole week. You can't pray over a bill you won't look at. Most people feel lighter the moment the last envelope is open, even before a single bill is paid.

HOLD ON

If any letter says a utility will be shut off, or a court date, call the number on it today. Ask what your options are. Don't wait for Day 6.

DAY 1 DONE

- [ ] I read Psalm 112 out loud in the morning.
- [ ] I said "Hon va'osher beveito" three times.
- [ ] I said the Command of Day 1.
- [ ] I opened every envelope and wrote the list.

"He shall not be afraid of evil tidings." Day 1: open every envelope.

What I did with my hands today:

Where Day 1 Leads

Day 1 opens the door. The full book, The 7-Day Command Over Money, walks you through all seven days: Psalm 65 and the rain calendar of your house, Psalm 23 at bedtime, Psalm 91 against the fear of the night, Psalm 24 and clean hands, Psalm 145 and the honest call, and Psalm 37 to close the week. It also gives you the Decree Against Debt from Deuteronomy 15, what the Talmud teaches to do when money comes in, and printable sheets for every day.

RABBI DAVID'S NOTE

If you only do one thing from this gift, open the envelopes. Everything else is easier after that.

May Hashem open His hand to you and to your house.

Yevarechecha Adonai veyishmerecha. The LORD bless thee, and keep thee.
